INDEX TO VOLUME CXI.

Abdominal Surgery. Address on abdominal surgery, Tait, L., 328.
Aberdein, R. A correction, 427.
Abortion, treatment of, Sawyer, E. W., 591.
Abscess. Treatment of acute abscess, Smith, 45; subscapular abscess, Blodgett, A. N., 158; pelvic abscess, Caswell, E. T., 303.
Acrania and Spina Bifida, Gannett, W. W., 584.
Actinomycosis in man and in animals, 256; two cases of human actinomycosis, 376.
Adams, J. F. A. Sanitary forest-culture, 173.
Adams, Z. B. Latent acute peritonitis of idiopathic origin; large amount of pus in the abdominal cavity; evacuation; recovery, 482.
Agnew, C. R. Foreign bodies in the eye, 208; a new local anæsthetic (hydrochlorate of cocaine), 400.
Alcohol. Some of the effects of alcoholism, Bruen, E. T., 241.
Alcoholic Disease in children, 307.
Amaurosis. Apparent and real amaurosis, Williams, H. W., 577, 587.
Ambulance Bearer Companies, 306; "militia ambulance bearer companies," Wales, N., 355.
Amidon, R. W. The pathological anatomy of sensory aphasia, 490.
Amory, R. The manufacture of oil of cade, 560.
Amputations at the Rhode Island Hospital from 1868 to 1883, Caswell, E. T., 289; amputations and artificial legs, Douglass, D. De F., 297; amputations at the hip-joint, Bradford, E. H., 561.
Anæsthesia. A new local anæsthetic (hydrochlorate of cocaine), Agnew, C. R., and Noyes, H. D., 400; rapid cocainization, Bradford, H. W., 438; ocular anæsthesia produced by cocaine, Williams, C. H., 440; hydrochlorate of cocaine as a local anæsthetic, 450.
Analysts. An American Society of Public Analysts, 569.
Anatomy. Recent progress in anatomy, Dwight, T., 227; the liberating of the ring finger in musicians by dividing the accessory tendons of the extensor communis digitorum muscle, Forbes, W. S., 601, 612.
Andrews, E. Two cases of gastrotomy, 542; excision of the rectum, 542; litholapaxy, 543; a new instrument for operating on varicocele, 543.
Aneurism of the left ventricle communicating with the aorta, Hughes, W. E., 63; aneurism of the aorta; empyema, Hughes, W. E., 64; remarks on aneurisms, Robison, J. A., 276.
Anthropophagy, 185; anthropophagy, Tupper, A. M., 236.
Antipyrine, Guttman, P., 162.
Aphasia. The pathological anatomy of sensory aphasia, Amidon, R. W., 490.
Apoplexy. Causes and treatment of apoplexy, Jelly, G. F., 563.
Army. Annual Report of the Surgeon-General, 595.
Arsenic. Cases of arsenical dermatitis, White, J. C., 433.
Asthma Nervosum. Bettman, J., 544.
Atrophy. Unilateral atrophy, Burrell, H. L., 462.
Athletics, college, 280.
Axford, W. L. Median lithotomy for cystitis and hyperæsthetic urethra, 18.
Ayer, J. B. A case of cerebral exhaustion (in the early and recoverable stage) following neuralgia and over-work, 561; facial neuralgia, 563.

Baker, H. M. Cheese poisoning, 279.
Barker, F. Charges brought against him, 615; trial and acquittal, 615, 620.
Barnes, H. J. Epuration of sewage by irrigation and agriculture, 84.
Bartholow, R. Some uses of the chloride of gold and sodium in nervous affections, 7; chronic ileo-colitis and laryngismus stridulus, 286.
Bartlett, J. A theory of cholera, or two theories as to the mode of advance of cholera, 253.
Bartlett, J. W. Casts of the pregnant and non-pregnant uterus, 593.
Barton, J. M. Cystic-papillary adenoma of the neck, 493.
Baths. Free baths in winter, 44; cold baths in the treatment of pneumonia, 160.
Behm, C. Combined version in placenta prævia, 261.
Bequests. Medical bequests, 352.
Berlin, F. A case of supposed extra-uterine pregnancy treated by electricity, 243, 250.
Bettman, B. Hydrochlorate of cocaine as a local anæsthetic, 543.
Bettman, J. Rhinolithiasis, with a report of a case of about forty years' development, 135; asthma nervosum, 544.
Beurmann, De. An unusual case of rabies in the human subject, 502.
Bibliography. Alexander, W., The Treatment of Backward Displacements of the Uterus and of Prolapsus Uteri by the New Method of Shortening the Round Ligaments, 65; Allen, H., A New Method of Recording the motions of the Soft Palate, 424; Althaus, J., On Sclerosis of the Spinal Cord, 568; Amidon, R. W., A Year Book of Therapeutics for 1883, 41; Amory, R., and Wood, E. S., Wharton and Stille's Medical Jurisprudence, 88; Bantock, G. G., On the Use and Abuse of Pessaries, 419; Beurmann, The Diagnosis of Sciatica, 46; Billings, J. S., The Principles of Ventilation and Heating, and their Practical Application, 137; Black, G. V., The Formation of Poisons by Micro-organisms, 496; Boston City Hospital, Twentieth Annual Report, 209; Bramwell, B., Diseases of the Heart and Thoracic Aorta, 567; Chesney, J. P., Shakespeare as a Physician, 374; Clouston, T. S., Clinical Lectures on Mental Diseases, 42; Corning, J. L., Brain Exhaustion, 147; DaCosta, J. M., Medical Diagnosis with Special Reference to Practical Medicine, 375; Fothergill, J. M., The Physiological Factor in Diagnosis, 424; Gibney, V. P., The Hip and its Diseases, 65; Green, T. H., An Introduction to Pathology and Morbid Anatomy, 544; Hart, D. B., The Atlas of Female Pelvic Anatomy, 566; Haynes, C. M., Elementary Principles of Electro-Therapeutics, 208; Hutchinson, J., The Pedigree of Disease, 424; Hutchinson, J. C., A treatise on Physiology and Hygiene, 472; Jones, H. McN., Practical Manual of Diseases of Women and Uterine Therapeutics, 375; Mackenzie, M., Diseases of the Throat and Nose, including the Pharynx, Larynx, Trachea, Œsophagus, Nose and Naso-Pharynx, 495; Martin, A., Pathologie und Therapie der Frauen-Krankheiten nach den in den Feriencursen Gehaltenen Vorträgen, 566; Massachusetts, Vital Statistics for the Year 1883, 474; Ralfe, C. H., Clinical Chemistry, 18; Ranney, A. L., A Practical Treatise on Surgical Diagnosis, 472; Reese, J. J., Text-Book of Medical Jurisprudence and Toxicology, 374; Rindfleisch, E., The Elements of Pathology, 496; Roberts, F. T., The Theory and Practice of Medicine, 375; Rothacker, W. A., Henke's Atlas of Surgical Anatomy, 423; Stillé, A., and Maisch, J. M., The National Dispensatory, 208; United States Commissioner of Education, Report for 1882-83, 380; United States Surgeon-General's Office, The Fifth Volume of the Index Catalogue, 376; Van Buren, W. H., Lectures on the Principles of Surgery, 472; Wagner, C., Diseases of the Nose, 565; Wellner, G. D., The Medical Graduate and his Needs, 400; Woakes, E., Post-Nasal Catarrh and Disease of the Nose causing Deafness, 41; Wurz, A., Elements of Modern Chemistry, 42; Yeo, M. F., Manual of Physiology, a Text-Book for Students of Medicine, 449; Ziegler, E., A Text-Book of Pathological Anatomy and Pathogenesis, 544.
Biography. Adams, A. B., 192; Adams, J. G., 22; Buckler, R., 288; Byrd, H. L., 552; Chamberlain, C. W., 264; Chamberlain, N. S., 456; Clark, L., 336; Cohnheim, J., 307; Damon, H. F., 312; Dix, J. H., 240; Duncan, C. M., 384; Fisk, S. A., 504; Foster, J., 45; Gray, C. C., 549; Jager, 141; Jarvis, E., 456; Langworthy, F. A., 264; Martin, H. A., 576; Osler, W., 429; Parker, W., 399; Radcliffe, J. N., 379; Rogers, R. E., 288; Wilson, E., 187; Wing, B. F., 144; Woodward, J. J., 216, 237; Zeissl, H. von, 432; Jarvis, E., 598; Thomas, J. G., 600; Duncan, C. M., 600; necrology for the year, 618.
Birdsall, W. A. Ophthalmoplegia externa progressiva, 9.
Bixby, G. H. A case of menstruation recurring every three months, 299.
Blake, J. G. Epuration of sewage by irrigation and agriculture, 84.
Blodgett, A. N. Subscapular abscess, 158; Prof. Pettenkofer on the cholera bacillus, 502; letter from Paris, 620.
Blyth, A. W. Toxicology in literature, 190.
Boardman, W. E. Labor in a case with contracted conjugate: version and craniotomy, 176, 182; on the use of iodoform insufflation within the uterus in puerperal septicæmia, 246, 251; a case of impetigo herpetiformis, 321.
Bontecou, R. B. Two cases of hæmorrhage into the pons Varolii, 250.
Boston. Health of the city of Boston, 1883-84, 89; milk supply of Boston, 111.; Boston Society for Medical Improvement, 584.
Bosworth, J. H. The three tonsils, some practical suggestions in regard to their structure, function, and diseases, 371.
Bowditch, H. I. The aspirator in pleural effusion, 572.
Bradford, E. H. Functional affections of joints, 365; periosteal sarcoma of the femur, 514; cases of Little's disease, 516; amputation at the hip-joint, 561; report on progress in orthopedic surgery, 604.
Bradford, E. H., and Burrell, H. L. Report on progress in orthopedic surgery, 582.
Bradford, H. W. Rapid cocainization, 438.
Breast. Fissured nipples, Du Bois, 88; microscopic slides from a case of spindle-celled sarcoma of the breast, Schweinitz, G. de, 137.
Bridgeman, G. H. The plaster-posterior splint, 165.
Broncho-Pneumonia. The pathology of broncho-pneumonia, Delafield, F., 484, 493.
Brown, B. Extension in the treatment of diseased vertebræ, 1.
Brown, F. F. Sick headache, 391.
Browne, C. Overpressure in schools, 378.
Bruen, E. T. Some of the effects of alcoholism, 241.
Buckingham, E. M. Subcutaneous injections in intestinal pain; their safety as compared with opiates by the mouth, 415.
Bullard, W. N. A typhoid epidemic at the "North End" (Boston), 55, 60.
Burrell, H. L. A case of strangulated umbilical hernia, 368, 371; unilateral atrophy, 462.
Burrell, H. L., and Bradford, E. H. Report on progress in orthopedic surgery, 582.

Cabot, A. T. Recent progress in surgery, 127; a case of double ovariotomy, 158, 160; a case of multiple calculi in the bladder, 195; antiseptic herniotomy with suture of the peritonæum, 363, 371; "tumors of the bladder," 477.
Cade. The manufacture of oil of cade, Amory, R., 560.
Calculus. A case of multiple calculi in the bladder, Cabot, A. T., 195; a case of calculus in the female bladder; removal by Bigelow's operation, Pinkham, J. G., 416.
Cancer of the body of the uterus, involving the rectum, Minot, F., 323.
Candolle, A. de. Blue eyes going out, 420.
Canfield, R. M., and Putnam, J. J. A case of acute hemiplegic chorea, with autopsy and remarks, 220.
Canned Food. The safety of canned foods, 377.
Cass (Dresden) and Longshore (Philadelphia). Is intromission necessary to conception? 262.
Caswell, E. T. Amputations at the Rhode Island Hospital from 1868 to 1883, 289; pelvic abscess, 303.
Censors of the Massachussetts Medical Society; the method and standard of examination of candidates, 9.

Chadwick, J. R. A specimen of dermoid cyst of the ovary, 131; gastro-nephritic fistula, 274; extirpation of a retro-renal sarcoma by abdominal section, 388, 393.
Chancellor. The non-contagiousness of cholera and inadequacy of quarantine, 397.
Cheese Poisoning, Baker, H. M., 279.
Chemistry. Report on medical chemistry, Hills, W. B., 178; toxicology in literature, 190; cystin in urine, Fifield, W. C. B., 468.
Children. The summer diarrhœa of children, Smith, J. L., 37; the value of single symptoms in the diagnosis of many diseases of childhood, Politzer, L. M., 93; difficult dentition, Lyman, G. H., 182; infant feeding and summer diseases of children, 251; on the prophylaxis and treatment of tuberculosis and scrofulosis in children, Förster, 261; chronic ileo-colitis and laryngismus stridulus, Bartholow, R., 286; acute intussusception in an infant eighteen weeks old, Collier, 286; alcoholic disease in children, 307; mental alienation in young children, Leidesdorf, M., 356; overpressure in schools, Browne, C., 358; prevention of ophthalmia neonatorum, Garrigues, H. J., 477; report on diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., 534; congenital arrest of development, Reynolds, J. P., 561.
Chloral Hydrate, as an antiseptic, Warner, E., 177.
Cholera. The westward course of cholera, 19; the cholera in France, 44; our Boards of Health and the State department on cholera, 67; cholera and sanitary neglect at Toulon, 70; suggestions concerning cholera, 138; treatment of Asiatic cholera, Lathrop, W. H., 142; a theory of cholera, or two theories as to the mode of advance of cholera, Bartlett, J., 253; the treatment of Asiatic cholera in Southern India, Scudder, H. M., 278; the treatment of Asiatic cholera in Southern India, Paoli, G. C., 302; sanitary precautions against cholera, 304; the extension of cholera, 305; the cholera epidemic of 1873, Lathrop, W. H., 331; cholera and rags, 353; the non-contagiousness of cholera and inadequacy of quarantine, Chancellor, 397; report of committee on practical work required for the prevention of cholera in this country, 397; "practical recommendations for the exclusion and prevention of cholera," 402; the parasitic doctrine of epidemic cholera, Flint, A., Sr., 420; ætiology and propagation of cholera, Shattuck, G. B., 457; cholera in Paris, 475; the Asiatic cholera at Suspension Bridge in 1854 and its lessons; what we know about cholera, Hamilton, F. H., 491; cholera notes, 497; cholera and rags, 498; cholera in Paris, 499; Prof. Pettenkofer on the cholera bacillus, Blodgett, A. N., 502; precautions against cholera, 550; the cholera epidemic in Paris, 620.
Chorea. A case of acute hemiplegic chorea: with autopsy and remarks, Caulfield, M., and Putnam, J. J., 220.
Chylous Deposit in the abdomen, Nickerson, F., 152.
Circulatory System. Aneurism of the left ventricle communicating with the aorta, Hughes, W. E., 63; aneurism of the aorta; empyema, Hughes, W. E., 64; the diagnosis of mitral constriction, 165; report on progress in thoracic diseases, Shattuck, F. C., 205; two cases of hæmorrhage into the pons Varolii, Bontecou, R. B., 250; remarks on aneurisms, Robison, J. A., 276; double pneumonia in a man with slight aortic stenosis of long standing and possible atheroma of the coronary arteries, Cutler, E. G., 469; pneumonia complicating chronic endocarditis and acute pericarditis, Cutler, E. G., 470.
Clarke, E. C. Epuration of sewage by irrigation and agriculture, 81.
Clevenger. Dr. Clevenger on political abuse of the insane, 523.
Climate. Notes on Nassau as a winter resort, Osgood, H., 155.
Cocaine. A new local anæsthetic (hydrochlorate of cocaine), Agnew, C. R., and Noyes, H. D., 400; rapid cocainization, Bradford, H. W., 438; ocular anæsthesia produced by cocaine, Williams, C. H., 440; hydrochlorate of cocaine as a local anæsthetic, 450; hydrochlorate of cocaine, Holt, E. E., 501; hydrochlorate of cocaine in genito-urinary, eye, and throat surgery, Cabot, A. T., 515; cocaine in ophthalmic surgery, Jeffries, B. J., 537; hydrochlorate of cocaine as a local anæsthetic, Bettman, B., 543; cocaine hydrochlorate in the larynx, Knight, F. I., 550; hydrochlorate of cocaine subcutaneously, Croston, J. F., 573; the use of cocaine in the nose, Hooper, F. H., 585; hydrochlorate of cocaine, Williams, C. H., 585.
Coggin, D. A concretion in the external auditory meatus, 181.
Colic. Local temperature in biliary colic, Cyr, J., 454.
Collier. Acute intussusception in an infant eighteen weeks old, 286.
Conservative Progress, Didama, H. D., 529.
Conservative Surgery, Fris-bie, J. F., 476.
Cordeiro, F. J. B. The value of probabilities in medical research, 169.
Coroners, an act relating to medical examiners and coroners, 43.
Corrosive Sublimate. The risks of corrosive sublimate injections, 93.
Cows. The spaying of cows and pure milk, 67.
Crayon. A plea for the use of the crayon in medical schools, Hopkins, G. G., 598.
Croston, J. F. Hydrochlorate of cocaine subcutaneously, 573.
Crow and the Country Doctor, 478.
Crowell, J. The physician a popular educator, 49, 73, 97.
Curtis, H. A sanitary towel, 182.
Cushing, B. Removal of the placenta after abortion, 275.
Cutaneous System. Treatment of the vegetal parasitic skin diseases, 114; a case of xanthoma multiplex, Hardaway, W. A., 230; a clinical study of lupus erythematosus as it affects the hand, Hyde, J. N., 230; a suggestion concerning the treatment of acne and acne rosacea in the male subject, Sherwell, S., 230; a case of unilateral chromidrosis (?), White, J. C., 231; cases of arsenical dermatitis, White, J. C., 231; dermatitis herpetiformis, and its relations to impetigo herpetiformis, Duhring, L. A., 231; a case of late cutaneous syphilis (acne-form syphiloderm of the nose), illustrating the occasional necessity of large doses of potassium iodide, Stelwagon, H. W., 232; a case of vitiligo involving the whole surface, Stelwagon, H. W., 232; a case of general idiopathic atrophy of the skin, Hardaway, W. A., 232; miliaria and sudamina, Robinson, A. R., 232; on a peculiar ringed affection of the glans and prepuce, Taylor, R. W., 232; a case of impetigo herpetiformis, Boardman, W. E., 321; cases of arsenical dermatitis, White, J. C., 433; progress in dermatology, Tilden, G. H., 465; ophthalmic symptoms accompanying impetigo herpetiformis, Greenough, F. B., 472; prevalence of scabies, Greenough, F. B., 514.
Cutler, E. G. Double pneumonia in a man with slight aortic stenosis of long standing and possible atheroma of the coronary arteries; recovery, 469; pneumonia complicating chronic endocaritis and acute pericarditis, 470.
Cyr, J. Local temperature in biliary colic, 454.

Dana, C. L. Folie du doute and mysophobia, 9.
Davenport, F. H. Recent progress in gynecology, 156.
Day, A. Medical delusions, 145.
Death, Punishment by hanging, 191.
Defoe. Defoe upon the plague in London, 213.
Déjérine. Disseminated sclerosis, 287.
Delafield, F. The pathology of broncho-pneumonia, 484, 493.
Delaunay (Paris). Crossing the legs, and the mode of sitting, 429.
Delusions, Medical, Day, A., 145.
Dentistry. Restoration of gums about loose teeth, Rollins, W. H., 22; causes of discoloration in gold fillings in teeth, Rollins, W. H., 226; a gas furnace for firing dental enamels and porcelains; causes of "gasing" in firing teeth, Rollins, W. H., 393.
Diabetes. A case of diabetes insipidus, Fisk, S. A., 105; case of acute diabetes of unknown duration, Rogers, O. F., 298.
Didama, H. D. Conservative progress, 529, 553.
Dietetic Delusions; their deleterious effects, and their rectification, Hodges, R. M., 25.
Digestive System. Significance of jaundice in diagnosis, Quine, W. E., 15; the summer diarrhœa of children, Smith, J. L., 37; a case of chylous deposit in the abdomen, Nickerson, F., 152; gastro-nephric fistula, Chadwick, J. R., 274; acute intussusception in an infant eighteen weeks old, Collier, 286; chronic ileo-colitis and laryngismus stridulus, Bartholow, R., 286; two cases of general chronic proctitis, Johnson, F. W., 295; the dry diet cure of dyspepsia, 329; the absorption of sugar and albuminoids by the stomach, Smith, R. M., 337; antiseptic herniotomy with suture of the peritonæum, Cabot, A. T., 363, 371; a case of strangulated umbilical hernia, 368, 371; the three tonsils, some practical suggestions in regard to their structure, function, and diseases, Bosworth, J. H., 371; dilatation of the stomach, 425; atonic dilatation of the stomach, 473; latent acute peritonitis of idiopathic origin, Adams, Z. B., 482; two cases of gastrostomy, Andrews, E., 542; excision of the rectum, Andrews, E., 543; double inguinal hernia in a male infant thirty-eight days old; strangulation on the left side; herniotomy, Steinbach, G. W., 569.
Dilatation of the Stomach, 425.
Dime Museums and venomous serpents, 209.
Diphtheria. The relations between scarlatina and diphtheria, 70; diphtheria spread by adults, Jacobi, A., 355; "Diptheria spread by adults," Kellogg, D. S., 405; an unusually protracted case of diphtheria, Wins, 454; is the operation of tracheotomy in diphtheritic croup dangerous? when should the operation be performed? Winters, J. F., 588.
Dispensary doctor as Saint Stephen, 570.
Doctors. Three doctors in fiction, 142.
Doe, O. W. Placenta prævia, 182; cranial bones of a fœtus removed from the rectum, 268, 275.
"Doubting Madness," Dana, C. L., 157.
Douglass, D. De F. Amputations and artificial legs, 297.
Draper, F. W. A case of homicide by a wound of the vulva, 217.
Drowning. Notes of a case of drowning, Stedman, G., 177.
Dublin. Antiseptic midwifery at the Dublin Rotunda Hospital, 138.
Du Bois (Philadelphia). Fissured nipples, 88.
Ductless Gland. The suprarenal capsules, Tizzoni, 262.
Duhring, L. A. Dermatitis herpetiformis and its relations to impetigo herpetiformis, 231.
Dunn, T. D. Some studies of the micrococcus of the pleuro-pneumonia of cattle, 610.
Dupuytren's Contraction, Warner, E., 345.
Dwight, T. Recent progress in anatomy, 227.
Dyspepsia. The dry diet cure of dyspepsia, 329.

Ear. The effect of noises upon certain forms of deafness, Hawley, G. F., 16; recent progress in otology, Green, J. Orne, 24; a concretion in the external auditory meatus, Coggin, D., 181.
Earle, C. W. Infant feeding and summer diseases of children, 251.
Editorials. The westward course of cholera, 19; stretching the intercostal nerves, 20; a commission to consider the relief of river basins and protection of water supplies, 20; an act relating to medical examiners and coroners, 43; the travelers' pocket pharmacy, 43; the cholera in France, 44; the Fiske prizes, 44; free baths in winter, 44; public health, public wealth, 66; spaying cows and pure milk, 67; our Boards of Health and the State department of cholera, 67; health of the city of Boston, 1883-84, 89; an over crowded profession, 90; electric neurosis, 113; treatment of the vegetal parasitic skin diseases, 114; female pharmacists, 115; paraldehyd, 116; suggestions concerning cholera, 138; antiseptic midwifery at the Dublin Rotunda Hospital, 138; medical vernacular, 139; the rescue of Lieutenant Greely and his surviving comrades, 161; a new antipyretic, 162; recoveries from insanity, 183; medical vernacular, 184; anthropophagy, 185; twentieth annual report of the Boston City Hospital, 209; dime museums and venomous serpents, 209; the diagnostic use of questions, 233; present doctrine as to memory-localizations, 234; actinomycosis in man and in animals, 256; antiseptic therapeutics, 257; college athletics, 280; rickets in animals, 280; the extension of cholera, 305; militia ambulance bearer companies, 306; alcoholic disease in children, 307; Mr. Tait's address, 328; the dry diet cure of dyspepsia, 329; "Guide, Philosopher, and Friend," 330; medical bequests, 352; cholera and rags, 353; the fifth volume of the Index Catalogue, 376; two cases of human actinomycosis, 377; the safety of canned foods, 377; international collective investigation of disease, 401; "practical recommendations for the exclusion and prevention of cholera," 402; the Tichborne case and medical evidence, 402; dilatation of the stomach, 425; Mr. Vanderbilt's gift to the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York, 425; hydrochlorate of cocaine as a local anæsthetic, 450; one feature of the Rhinelander case, 450; preventive medicine for the autumn, 451; atonic dilatation of the stomach, 473; the vital statistics of Massachusetts for the year 1883, 474; cholera in Paris, 475; cholera notes, 497; politics and public health, 497; cholera and rags, 498; Sir Joseph Lister on corrosive sublimate, 498; cholera in Paris, 499; the wisdom and constitutionality of state regulation of the practice of medicine, 522; Dr. Clevenger on political abuse of the insane, 523; quarantine as a sieve, 524; a remarkable laparotomy, 524; the accountability of medical men; Commonwealth vs. Franklin Pierce, 545; "tricks and manners," 546; the singular mortality reported from Western Virginia and Eastern Kentucky, 547; the quarantine conference in New York, 547; an American Society of Public Analysts, 569; organization of the Ninth International Medical Congress, 569; pleuro-pneumonia and hog cholera at New York and Long Island, 570; the dispensary doctor as Saint Stephen, 570; a proposal for a new national health organization, 594; the Annual Report of the Surgeon-General (army), 595; disposal of sewage at Providence; a sewage besieged city, 596; annus medicus, MDCCCLXXXIV., 616; the trial and acquittal of Dr. Fordyce Barker by the New York Academy of Medicine, 620.
Education. The physician a popular educator, Crowell, J., 49, 73, 97; report of the Commissioner of Education for 1882-83, 380; Mr. Vanderbilt's gift to the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York, 425; a discussion of some of the questions of medical education and medical ethics, 441, 444; a plea for the use of the crayon in medical schools, Hopkins, G. G., 598.

Electricity. Electric neurosis, 113; a case of supposed extra-uterine pregnancy treated by electricity, Berlin, F., 243, 250.
Eller, M. F. A few medico-legal features of life insurance, 100.
Elliot, J. W. A case of double uterus and vagina, 275; a case of retroversion of the gravid uterus, 275; cyst of the broad ligament, 584.
Engelmann (St. Louis). An insidious and fatal form of septicæmia, 349.
Epilepsy. A case of epileptic automatism, 22; a case of epileptic mania, Hall, D. G., 327.
Erysipelas. Partridge, E. L., 613.
Examination of candidates by Censors of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 9.
Extension in the treatment of diseased vertebræ, Brown, B., 1.
Extra-Uterine Pregnancy. Hydramnios in extra-uterine pregnancy, Teuffel, R., 287; a case of supposed extra-uterine pregnancy treated by electricity, Berlin, F., 243, 250; case of extra-uterine pregnancy, rupture, peritonitis, recovery, Montgomery, E. E., 510, 518; a case of extra-uterine pregnancy treated successfully by electricity, Sibbald, J., 511, 518.
Eye. Ophthalmoplegia externa progressiva, Birdsall, W. A., 9; foreign bodies in the eye, Agnew, 208; ophthalmic symptoms accompanying impetigo herpetiformis, Greenough, F. B., 472; prevention of ophthalmia neonatorum, Garrigues, H. J., 477; cocaine in ophthalmic surgery, Jeffries, B. J., 537; treatment of ophthalmic migraine, Féré, 88; an allopiastic operation, Williams, C. H., 159; blue eyes going out, Candolle, A. de, 439; apparent and real amaurosis, Williams, H. W., 577, 587.

Fatty Tumors. Hodges, R. M., 361.
Faxon, W. L. Epuration of sewage by irrigation and agriculture, 81.
Féré. Treatment of ophthalmic migraine, 88.
Fibroid. Cases of pregnancy complicated with fibrous tumor of the uterus, Richardson, W. L., 39.
Field, H. M. Six generic drug modifications, 3, 31.
Fifield, W. C. B. Cystin in urine, 468; obstinate vomiting of pregnancy, induced abortion, recovery, 394; unusual case, 515.
Fish, D. B. M. The external appearances of pistol-shot wounds, 313.
Fisk, S. A. The drawbacks of ranch life for the phthisical, 46; a case of diabetes insipidus, 105.
Fiske Prizes, 44.
Fitzgerald, E. Epuration of sewage by irrigation and agriculture, 83.
Flint, A. Sr. The parasitic doctrine of epidemic cholera, 420.
Folie du doute and Mysophobia, Dana, C. L., 9.
Food. Dietetic delusions; their deleterious effects and their rectification, Hodges, R. M., 25; milk supply of Boston, 111; anthropophagy, 185; the safety of canned food, 377; what is refrigerated beef? Lassing, H., 435; the preparation of Liebig's food, Williams, E. T., 460; poisoning by canned food, Johnson, J. G., 478.
Forbes, W. S. The liberating of the ring finger in musicians by dividing the accessory tendons of the extensor communis digitorum muscle, 601, 612.
Forests. Sanitary forest-culture, Adams, J. F. A., 173.
Förster on the prophylaxis and treatment of tuberculosis and scrofulosis in children, 261.
Forster, E. J. A case of placenta prævia, mother and child living, 126, 131.
Fractures. Fracture of the clavicle and its rational treatment, Wetmore, S. W., 133.
Frisbie, J. F. Conservative surgery, 476.

Gannett, W. W. Acrania and spina bifida, 584.
Garrigues, H. J. Ovulation, coition, and impregnation, 95; missed abortion; sclerosis of the placenta, 333; prevention of ophthalmia neonatorum, 477.
Gastrostomy. Two cases of gastrostomy, Andrews, E., 542.
Gavin, M. F. Case of diaphragmatic hernia, 490.
Gay, G. W. The plaster-posterior splint in the treatment of fractures of the leg, 76.
General Diseases. Locomotor ataxia and syphilis, Seguin, E. C., 9; the westward course of cholera, 19; the cholera in France, 44; a typhoid epidemic at the "North End" (Boston), Bullard, W. N., 55, 60; sarcoma of testicle, Schweinitz, G. de, 62; the relations between scarlatina and diphtheria, 73; a case of diabetes insipidus, Fisk, S. A., 105; microscopic slides from a specimen of spindle celled sarcoma of the breast, Schweinitz, G. de, 137; suggestions concerning cholera, 138; treatment of Asiatic cholera, Lathrop, W. H., 142; primary cancer of bladder, Whitney, W. F., 160; vaccination and syphilitic infection, 188; the advantages of massage in rheumatic gout, Graham, D., 197; Defoe upon the plague in London, 213; a theory of cholera, or two theories as to the mode of advance of cholera, Bartlett, J., 253; on the prophylaxis and treatment of tuberculosis and scrofulosis in children, Förster, 261; tuberculosis of the serous membranes, Pepper, W., 265; the treatment of Asiatic cholera in Southern India, Scudder, H. M., 278; tuberculosis of the female genital organs, 281; case of acute diabetes of unknown duration, Rogers, O. F., 298; the treatment of Asiatic cholera in Southern India, Paoli, G. C., 302; the extension of cholera, 305; cancer of the body of the uterus, involving the rectum, Minot, F., 323; the cholera epidemic of 1873, Lathrop, W. H., 331; diphtheria spread by adults, Jacobi, A., 355; a case of scarlet fever in a canary, Ogston, F., 381; extirpation of a retro-renal sarcoma by abdominal section, Chadwick, J. R., 388, 393; the non-contagiousness of cholera and inadequacy of quarantine, Chancellor, 397; report of committee on practical work required for the prevention of cholera in this country, 397; "practical recommendations for the exclusion and prevention of cholera," 402; "diphtheria spread by adults," Kellogg, D. S., 405; the parasitic doctrine of epidemic cholera, Flint, A., Sr., 420; ætiology and propagation of cholera, Shattuck, G. B., 457; cholera in Paris, 475; cholera at Suspension Bridge in 1854, Hamilton, F. H., 491; cholera notes, 497; cholera and rags, 498; cholera in Paris, 499; periosteal sarcoma of the femur, 514; the typhoid of new-comers, Hall, J. D., 602; erysipelas, Partridge, E. L., 613.
Generative System. A contribution to the study of hysteria bearing on the question of oophorectomy, Walton, G. L., 8; papillomatous multilocular cysts of both ovaries, Parkes, C. T., 18; sarcoma of testicle, Schweinitz, G. de, 62; ovulation, coition, and impregnation, Garrigues, H. J., 95; a specimen of dermoid cyst of the ovary, Chadwick, J. R., 131; a successful case of abdominal section for pyosalpynx treated by Volkmann's method, Martin, F. A., 132; recent progress in gynecology, Davenport, F. H., 156; a case of double ovariotomy, Cabot, A. T., 158, 160; menstruation in woman and animals, Lovett, R. W., 201; a case of homicide by wound of the vulva, Draper, F. W., 217; on the use of iodoform insufflations within the uterus in puerperal septicæmia, Boardman, W. E., 246, 251; a case of double uterus and vagina, Elliot, J. W., 275; tuberculosis of the female genital organs, 281; two cases of general chronic proctitis caused by retroversion of the uterus with prolapse of right ovary in the first case, by simple retroversion of the uterus with chronic endometritis in the second case, Johnson, F. W., 295; a case of menstruation recurring every three months, Bixby, G. H., 299; pelvic abscess, Caswell, E. T., 303; cancer of the body of the uterus, involving the rectum, Minot, F., 323; abdominal surgery, Tait, L., 328; moot points in regard to inversion of the uterus, Reeve, J. C., 346; foreign bodies in the abdomen after laparotomy, Wilson, H. P. C., 347; value of abdominal section as a means of diagnosis, Palmer, C. D., 347; vaginal enucleation of cervical fibroids, Mundé, P. F., 347; the limits of vaginal hysterectomy for cancer, Mundé, P. F., 348; intra-uterine therapeutics, Madden, T. M., 382; atresia vaginæ with retention of menses, Marshall, C., 423; cyst of the broad ligament, Elliot, J. W., 584; fibroid and ovarian tumors removed by abdominal section, Homans, J., 588.
Gibney, V. P. The surgical management of rachitic deformities of the lower extremities, 540.
Giddings, W. P. Pregnancy and ovarian cyst; ovarian tumor in a woman of ninety years, 417.
Gonorrhœa. The pathogenic microbes of gonorrhœa, Welander, E., 214.
Goodell. The use and abuse of the forceps, 262.
Gorton, W. A. A case of monomania, 123, 131.
Goss, F. W. A fatal case of puerperal convulsions, preceded by excessive epigastric pain, 464, 471.
Gout. The advantages of massage in rheumatic gout, Graham, D., 197.
Graham, D. The advantages of massage in rheumatic gout, 197.
Greely. The rescue of Lieutenant Greely and his surviving companions, 161; anthropophagy, 185; the cases of the survivors of the Lady Franklin Bay expedition, Green, E. H., 223.
Green, C. M. Report on obstetrics, 58; a case of acute hydramnios, with remarks on the pathology of this affection, 121, 130; concerning the ætiology and pathology of hydramnios, 267.
Green, E. H. The cases of the survivors of the Lady Franklin Bay expedition, 223.
Green, J. Orne. Recent progress in otology, 34.
Greenough, F. B. Ophthalmic symptoms accompanying impetigo herpetiformis, 472; prevalence of scabies, 544.
Gross, S. D. A memorial professorship to the late S. D. Gross, 46.
"Guide, Philosopher and Friend," 320.
Gull, W. International collective investigation, 237.
Gun-shot wound of the neck, Otis, E. O., 269.
Gun-shot Wounds. The external appearances of pistol-shot wounds, Fish, D. B. M., 313.
Guttman, P. Antipyrine, 162.

Hall, D. G. A case of epileptic mania, 327.
Hall, J. D. The typhoid of new-comers, 602.
Hamilton, F. H. The Asiatic cholera at Suspension Bridge in 1854, and its lessons — what we know about cholera, 491.
Hammond, G. M. Can locomotor ataxia be cured? 6.
Hanging. Death-punishment by hanging, 191; suicide by hanging, Nobiling, 379.
Hardaway, W. A. A case of xanthoma multiplex, 230; a case of general idiopathic atrophy of the skin, 232.
Hare, H. A. The nitrite of amyl as an antidote in strychnia poisoning, 481.
Hawley, G. F. The effect of noises upon certain forms of deafness, 16.
Headache. Sick headache, Brown, F. F., 391.
Hemiplegia, Double, McNutt, S. J., 9.
Hernia. Antiseptic herniotomy with suture of the peritonæum, Cabot, A. T., 363, 371; a case of strangulated umbilical hernia, Burrell, H. L., 368, 371; a case of diaphragmatic hernia, Gavin, M. F., 490; double inguinal hernia in a male infant, strangulation on the left side, herniotomy, Steinbach, G. W., 559.
Hills, W. B. Report on medical chemistry, 178.
Hip Disease. Traumatic sciatica and its relations to hip disease, Massey, G. B., 86.
Hirsh, A. B. Notes of a case of poisoning by Mrs. Winslow's soothing syrup, 379.
Hodges, R. M. Dietetic delusions; their deleterious effects, and their rectification, 25, 35; exceptional fatty tumors, 361.
Holt, E. E. Hydrochlorate of cocaine, 501.
Homans, J. Fibroid and ovarian tumors removed by abdominal section, 588.
Hooper, F. H. Report on laryngology and rhinology, 78, 109; the use of cocaine in the nose, 585.
Hopkins, G. G. A plea for the use of the crayon in medical schools, 598.
Hughes, W. E. Aneurism of the left ventricle communicating with the aorta, 63; aneurism of the aorta; empyema, 64.
Humerus. Specimens from a case of resection of the humerus, Nancrede, 137.
Huntress, L. The pitch of the percussion sound, 149.
Hyde, J. N. A clinical study of lupus erythematosus as it affects the hand, 230.
Hydramnion in extra-uterine pregnancy, Teuffel, R., 287.
Hydramnios. A case of acute hydramnios, with remarks on the pathology of this affection, Green, C. M., 121, 130; concerning the ætiology and pathology of hydramnios, Green, C. M., 267.
Hygiene, Health, and Boards of Health. Public health, public wealth, 65; our boards of health and the State Department on cholera, 67; the national value of public health, Paget, J., 69; epuration of sewage by irrigation and agriculture, Clarke, E. C., and others, 81; health of the city of Boston, 1883-84, 89; sanitary forest-culture, Adams, J. F. A., 173; sanitary precautions against cholera, 304; cholera and rags, 353; sanitary condition of Nice and the Riviera, 380; efficacy of quarantine and the rights of States, Rauch, J. H., 395; the non-contagiousness of cholera and inadequacy of quarantine, Chancellor, 397; report of committee on practical work required for the prevention of cholera in this country, 397; international collective investigation of disease, 401; "practical recommendations for the exclusion and prevention of cholera," 402; the follies of quarantine, 405; statement relating to the international collective investigation of disease proposed at the International Medical Congress at Copenhagen, 406; politics and public health, 487; adjourned conference of State Boards of Health, 526; report of committee on national sanitation, 543; a proposal for a new national health organization, 594; disposal of sewage at Providence, a sewage besieged city, 596; conference of State Boards of Health, 607.

Hysteria. A contribution to the study of hysteria bearing on the question of oophorectomy, Walton, G. L., 8; the medico-legal significance of typical so-called hysterical symptoms occurring in men after railway and other injuries, Putnam, J. J., 8; male hysteria, 214.

Impetigo. Ophthalmic symptoms accompanying impetigo herpetiformis, Greenough, F. B., 472.
Impetigo Herpetiformis, Boardman, W. E., 321.
Index Catalogue. The fifth volume of the Index Catalogue, 376.
Instinct. The instinct of the sphex, 622.
Instruments and Apparatus. The plaster-posterior splint in the treatment of fractures of the leg, Gay, G. W., 76; a new powder blower, Otis, W. J., 81; the plaster-posterior splint, Bridgman, G. H., 165; the plaster-posterior splint, Kingman, R. A., 188; the use and abuse of the forceps, Goodell, 262; amputations and artificial legs, Douglass, D. DeF., 297; a new instrument for operating on varicocele, Andrews, E., 543.
International Collective Investigation of Disease, 401; statement relating to the international collective investigation of disease, prepared at the International Medical Congress at Copenhagen, 406.
International Medical Congress. Organization, 569, 574.
Intussusception in an infant eighteen weeks old, Collier, 286.

Jackson, A. Surgical triumphs and operative audacities, 166.
Jacobi, A. Diphtheria spread by adults, 355.
Jaundice. Significance of jaundice in diagnosis, Quine, W. E., 15.
Jarvis, E. Obituary, 598.
Jeffries, B. J. Cocaine in ophthalmic surgery, 537.
Jelly, G. F. Cause and treatment of apoplexy, 563.
Johnson, F. W. Two cases of general chronic proctitis, 295.
Johnson, J. G. Poisoning by canned foods, 478.
Joints. Functional affections of joints, Bradford, E. H., 365.
Joyce, R. D. The seen and the unseen, 92.
Jurisprudence. A few medico-legal features of life insurance, Eller, M. F., 100; notes of two autopsies, Presbrey, S. D., 154; medico-legal note (arsenic), 45; notes of a case of drowning, Stedman, G., 177; a case of homicide by a wound of the vulva, Draper, F. W., 217; suicide by hanging, Nobiling, 379; a fracture of skull of medico-legal interest, Nasmyth, 428; the accountability of medical men; Commonwealth vs. Franklin Pierce, 545.

Kellogg, D. S. "Diphtheria spread by adults," 405
Kingman, R. A. The plaster-posterior splint, 188.
Kisch (Prague). The pathology of obesity, 238.
Kisseleff, M. K. Cold baths in the treatment of pneumonia, 160.
Knight, F. I. Cocaine hydrochlorate in the larynx, 550.

Langley, J. N. The physiological aspect of mesmerism, 309.
Larynx. Report on laryngology and rhinology, Hooper, F. H., 78, 109.
Lassing, H. What is refrigerated beef? 435.
Lathrop, W. H. Treatment of Asiatic cholera, 142; the cholera epidemic of 1873, 331.
Leffmann, H. A discussion of some of the questions of medical education and medical ethics, 441, 444.
Legs. Crossing the legs, and the mode of sitting, Delaunay, 429.
Leidesdorf, M. Mental alienation in young children, 356.
Liebig's Food. Williams, E. T., 460.
Life Insurance. A few medico-legal features of life insurance, Eller, M. F., 100; the death certificate in a case of suicide, with reference to insurance, 238; weight as an indication of the character of risks for life insurance, Seaverns, J., 285, 453.
Litholapaxy, Andrews, E., 543.
Lister, J. Corrosive sublimate, 498.
Locomotor Ataxia. Can locomotor ataxia be cured? Hammond, G. M., 6.
Locomotor Ataxia and Syphilis, Seguin, E. C., 9.
Lovett, R. W. Menstruation in woman and animals, 201.
Lusk, W. T. Sudden death in childbirth, 430.
Lyman, G. H. Difficult dentition, 182; pneumo-thorax, 585.

MacCoy. Report of a remarkable case of cough, 310.
Mackenzie, M. "Rose cold," 260.
Manaca. The use of manaca (Franciscea uniflora) in the treatment of acute rheumatism, Rogers, H. C., 532.
Marriages, late, Steinmann, F., 166.
Married Life, the mortality of, Pratt, W., 46.
Marshall, C. Atresia vaginæ with retention of menses, 423.
Martin, F. A. A successful case of abdominal section for pyosalpynx treated by Volkmann's method, 152.
Massage. The advantages of massage in rheumatic gout, Graham, D., 197
Massachusetts. Vital statistics for the year 1882, 474.
Massachusetts General Hospital. A statement in regard to the charge of nepotism at the Massachusetts General Hospital, 117, 164; house officers of the Massachusetts General Hospital during the eleven years past, 283.
Massachusetts Medical Society. Election of honorary members, 332.
Massey, G. B. Traumatic sciatica and its relations to hip disease, 86.
Materia Medica and Therapeutics. Six generic drug modifications, Field, H. M., 3, 31; some uses of the chloride of gold and sodium in nervous affections, Bartholow, R., 7; the travelers' pocket pharmacy, 43; the risks of corrosive sublimate injections, 93; paraldehyd, 116; cold baths in the treatment of pneumonia, Kisseleff, M. K., 160; a new antipyretic, 162; chloral hydrate as an antiseptic, Warner, E., 177; the hypodermic injection of amyl and epileptiform convulsions, Ringer, S., 238; on the use of iodoform insufflation within the uterus in puerperal septicæmia, Boardman, W. E., 246; antiseptic therapeutics, 257; erythroxylon coca, Squibb, E. R., 283; report on materia medica and therapeutics, Williams, F. H., 300, 324; the physiological aspect of mesmerism, Langley, J. N., 309; how to prepare antiseptic dressings of mercuric bichloride, Wilson, C. M., 333; intra-uterine therapeutics, Madden, T. M., 382; the therapeutical effects of the internal administration of hot water in the treatment of nervous diseases, Ranney, A. L., 389; a new local anæsthetic, Agnew, C. R., and Noyes, H. D., 400; subcutaneous injections in intestinal pain; their safety as compared with opiates by the mouth, Buckingham, E. M., 415; the nitrite of amyl as an antidote in strychnia poisoning, Hare, H. A., 481; Sir Joseph Lister on corrosive sublimate, 498; hydrochlorate of cocaine, Holt, E. E., 501; the use of manaca (Franciscea uniflora) in the treatment of acute rheumatism, Rogers, H. C., 532; the manufacture of oil of cade, Amory, R., 560.
Maury (Memphis). Tubal pregnancy, 348.
McNutt, S. J. Double hemiplegia, 9.
Medical Examiners. An act relating to medical examiners and coroners, 43.
Medical Vernacular, 139, 185.
Menstruation in woman and animals, Lovett, R. W., 201; menstruation recurring every three months, Bixby, G. H., 289.
Mercury. The elimination of mercury during and after its cutaneous employment, Schuster, 190.
Mesmerism. The physiological aspect of mesmerism, Langley, J. N., 309.
Milk. The spaying of cows and pure milk, 67; preliminary report of the committee appointed to take into consideration the milk supply of Boston, 111; a remarkable epidemic of sore throat originating in a milk supply, 118.
Mind. A case of monomania, Gorton, W. A., 123, 131; medical delusions, Day, A., 145; recoveries from insanity, 183; present doctrine as to memory localizations, 234; a case of epileptic mania, Hall, D. G., 327; mental alienation in young children, Leidesdorf, M., 356; Dr. Clevenger on political abuse of the insane, 523.
Minot, C. S. The organization of an international scientific association, 117.
Minot, F. Cancer of the body of the uterus, involving the rectum, 323.
Mitral Constriction. The diagnosis of mitral constriction, 165.
Monomania. A case of monomania, Gorton, W. A., 123, 131.
Montgomery, E. E. Case of extra-uterine pregnancy; rupture; peritonitis; recovery, 510, 518.
Morrill, F. G. Some diseases which may be merely symptoms of the effects of poisoning by sewer gas, 531.
Monsters. Acrania and spina bifida, Gannett, W. W., 584.
Mundé, P. F. Vaginal enucleation of cervical fibroids, 347; the limits of vaginal hysterectomy for cancer, 348.
Munger, T. T. An overcrowded profession, 90.
Murray, R. Obituary: The late Surgeon Joseph Janvier Woodward, 237.
Musicians. The liberating of the ring finger in musicians by dividing the accessory tendons of the extensor communis digitorum muscle, 601, 612.
Myers, S. O. Rubber catheter broken off in the uterus, 303.
Myxœdema. A case of myxœdema, West, E. G., 50, 60.

Nancrede (Philadelphia). Specimens from a case of resection of the humerus, 137.
Nasmyth. A fracture of skull of medico-legal interest, 428.
Nassau. Notes on Nassau as a winter resort, Osgood, H., 555.
National Board of Health, 160, 396; a proposal for a new national health organization, 594.
Necrology for the year, 618.
Nepotism at the Massachusetts General Hospital, 117, 164, 283.
Nervous System. Encephalic nomenclature, Wilder, B. G., 6, 7; can locomotor ataxia be cured? Hammond, G. M., 6; multiple neuritis, Webber, S. G., 6; some uses of gold and sodium in nervous affections, Bartholow, R., 7; the relations between injuries of the spinal cord and the excretion of carbonic anhydride, Ott, I., 7; a contribution to the study of hysteria bearing on the question of oophorectomy, Walton, G. L., 8; the medico-legal significance of typical so-called hysterical symptoms occurring in men after railway and other injuries, Putnam, J. J., 8; double hemiplegia, McNutt, S. J., 9; ophthalmoplegia externa progressiva, Birdsall, W. A., 9; locomotor ataxia and syphilis, Seguin, E. C., 9; folie du doute and mysophobia, Dana, C. L., 9; stretching the intercostal nerves, 20; a case of epileptic automatism, 22; traumatic sciatica and its relation to hip disease, Massey, G. B., 86; electric neurosis, 113; the treatment of epileptiform neuralgia by nerve stretching, Walsham, 189; male hysteria, 214; a case of acute hemiplegic chorea; with autopsy and remarks, Canfield, R. M., and Putnam, J. J., 220; two cases of hæmorrhage into the pons Varolii, Bontecou, R. B., 250; report on nervous diseases, Webber, S. G., 271; poliomyelitis in the adult, Van Duyn, J., 285; disseminated sclerosis, Dejerine, 287; a case of epileptic mania, Hall, D. G., 327; sick headache, Brown, F. F., 391; the therapeutical effect of the internal administration of hot water in the treatment of nervous diseases, Ranney, A. L., 389; the pathological anatomy of sensory aphasia, Amidon, R. W., 490; sunstroke; chronic meningitis, Wood, H. C., 505; case of hysterical hemianæsthesia, convulsions, and motor paralysis, brought on by a fall, Walton, G. L., 558, 561; a case of cerebral exhaustion (in the early and recoverable stage) following neuralgia and over-work, Ayer, J. B., 561; facial neuralgia, Ayer, J. B., 563; causes and treatment of apoplexy, Jelly, G. F., 563
Neuritis. Multiple neuritis, Webber, S. G., 6.
New York Post-Graduate Medical School and Hospital Clinical Society, 613.
Nice. Sanitary condition of Nice and the Riviera, 380.
Nickerson, F. A case of chylous deposit in the abdomen, 152.
Nobiling. Suicide by hanging, 379.
Nomenclature. Encephalic nomenclature, Wilder, B. G., 6, 7.
Nose. The cure of crooked noses by a new method, Roberts, J. B., 369.
Noyes, H. D. A new local anæsthetic (hydrochlorate of cocaine), 400.

Obesity. The pathology of obesity, Kisch, 238.
Ogston, F. A case of scarlet fever in a canary, 381.
Oil. The oil-spot, 429.
Ophthalmia Neonatorum, prevention of, Garrigues, H. J., 477.
Orthopraxy. Extension in the treatment of diseased vertebræ, Brown, B., 1; the cure of crooked noses by a new method, Roberts, J. B., 369; report on progress in orthopedic surgery, Bradford, E. H., and Burrell, H. L., 582; recent progress in orthopedic surgery, Bradford, E. H. 604.
Osgood, H. Notes on Nassau as a winter resort, 555.
Otis, E. O. Penetrating gun-shot wound of the neck, 269.
Otis, W. J. A new powder blower, 81.
Ott, I. The relations between injuries of the spinal cord and the excretion of carbonic anhydride, 7.

Ovarian Cyst. Pregnancy and ovarian cyst; ovarian tumor in a woman of ninety years, Giddings, W. P., 417.
Ovary. A contribution to the study of hysteria bearing on the question of oophorectomy, Walton, G. L., 8; papillomatous multilocular cysts of both ovaries, Parkes, C. T., 18; a case of dermoid cyst of the ovary, Chadwick, J. R., 131; a case of double ovariotomy, Cabot, A. T., 158, 160.
Ovulation, Coition, and Impregnation, Garrigues, H. J., 95.
Oyster mistaken for a Malignant Growth, Theobald, 358.

Paddock, F. K. Dr. J. Collins Warren's new operation for rupture of the perinæum through the sphincter, 80.
Paget, J. The national value of public health, 69.
Palmer, C. D. Value of abdominal section as a means of diagnosis, 347.
Paoli, G. C. The treatment of Asiatic cholera in southern India, 302.
Paraldehyd, 116.
Paris. Cholera in Paris, 475; the cholera epidemic in Paris, 620.
Parkes, C. T. Papillomatous multilocular cysts of both ovaries, 18.
Partridge, E. L. Erysipelas, 613.
Pathology. Recent progress in pathology and pathological anatomy, Whitney, W. F., 487, 511.
Pepper, W. Tuberculosis of the serous membranes; death; autopsy, 265.
Percussion Sound. The pitch of the percussion sound, Huntress, J., 149.
Peritonitis. Latent acute peritonitis of idiopathic origin, Adams, Z. B., 482.
Perkinsism. Medical delusions, Day, A., 145.
Pettenkofer. The cholera bacillus, Blodgett, A. N., 502.
Pharmacy. Female pharmacists, 115.
Philbrick, E. S. Epuration of sewage by irrigation and agriculture, 82.
Physician a Popular Educator, Crowell, J., 49, 73, 97.
Physiology. Ovulation, coition, and impregnation, Garrigues, H. J., 95; the rescue of Lieutenant Greely and his surviving companions, 161; the relations between injuries of the spinal cord and the excretion of carbonic anhydride, Ott, J., 7.
Pinkham, J. G. A case of calculus in the female bladder; removal by Bigelow's operation, 416.
Pistol-shot Wounds, Fisk, D. B. N., 313.
Placenta Prævia. A case of placenta prævia, mother and child living, Forster, E. J., 126, 131; combined version in placenta prævia, Behm, C., 261; placenta prævia, Doe, O. W., 182.
Plague. Defoe upon the plague in London, 213.
Plaster-Posterior Splint in the treatment of fractures of the leg, Gay, G. W., 76; the plaster-posterior splint, Bridgman, G. H., 165.
Pleuro-Pneumonia. Some studies on the micrococcus of the pleuro-pneumonia of cattle, Dunn, T. D., 610.
Pleuro-Pneumonia and Hog Cholera at New York and Long Island, 570.
Pneumonia. Cold baths in the treatment of pneumonia, Kiseleff, M. K., 160.
Pneumo-Thorax, Lyman, G. H., 585.
Poisons. The risks of corrosive sublimate injections, 93; dime museums and venomous serpents, 209; some of the effects of alcoholism, Bruen, E. T., 241; cheese poisoning, Baker, H. M., 279; notes of a case of poisoning from Mrs. Winslow's soothing syrup, 370; the safety of canned foods, 377; poisoning by canned foods, Johnson, J. G., 478; nitrite of amyl as an antidote in strychnia poisoning, Hare, H. A., 481.
Poliomyelitis in the Adult, Van Duyn, J., 285.
Politzer, L. M. The value of single symptoms in the diagnosis of many diseases of childhood, 93.
Practice of Medicine. Medical delusions, Day, A., 145; the wisdom and constitutionality of state regulation of the practice of medicine, 522.
Pratt, W. The mortality of married life, 46.
Pregnancy, Affections connected with. Report on obstetrics, Green, C. M., 58; Dr. J. Collins Warren's new operation for rupture of the perinæum through the sphincter, Paddock, F. K., 80; a case of acute hydramnios, with remarks on the pathology of this affection, Green, C. M., 121, 130; a case of placenta prævia, mother and child living, Forster, E. J., 126, 131; antiseptic midwifery at the Dublin Rotunda Hospital, 138; labor in a case with contracted conjugate version and craniotomy, Boardman, W. E., 176, 182; placenta prævia, Doe, O. W., 182; a case of supposed extra-uterine pregnancy treated by electricity, Berlin, F., 243, 250; combined version in placenta prævia, Behm, C., 261; is intromission necessary to conception? Cass and Longshore, 262; concerning the ætiology and pathology of hydramnios, Green, C. M., 267; cranial bones of a fœtus removed from the rectum, Doe, O. W., 268, 275; a case of retroversion of the gravid uterus, Elliot, J. W., 275; removal of the placenta after abortion, Cushing, B., 275; hydramnios in extra-uterine pregnancy, Teuffel, R., 287; missed abortion; sclerosis of the placenta, Garrigues, H. J., 333; extra-uterine pregnancy, Thomas, 347; tubal pregnancy, Maury, 348; the present aspect of the puerperal diseases, Smith, A. H., 349; the occipito-posterior position in vertex labors, Sawyer, 349; dystocia from coiling of the cord about the neck of the fœtus, Rachel, 381; obstinate vomiting of pregnancy; induced abortion; recovery, Fifield, W. C. B., 394; placenta succenturiata, Richardson, W. L., 394; pregnancy and ovarian cyst, Giddings, W. P., 417; sudden death in child birth, Lusk, W. T., 430; a fatal case of puerperal convulsions preceded by excessive epigastric pain, Goss, F. W., 464, 471; summary of six hundred consecutive cases of midwifery, Wellington, W. W., 509, 516; case of extra-uterine pregnancy; rupture; peritonitis; recovery, Montgomery, E. E., 510, 518; a case of extra-uterine pregnancy treated successfully by electricity, Sibbald, J., 511, 518; some points regarding puerperal convulsions, Withington, C. F., 580; treatment of abortion, Sawyer, E. W., 591; casts of the pregnant and non-pregnant uterus, Bartlett, J. W., 593.
Presbrey, S. D. Notes of two autopsies, 154.
Preventive Medicine for the autumn, 451.
Prizes. The Fiske prizes, 44; Lomb prizes, 419.
Probabilities. The value of probabilities in medical research, Cordeiro, F. J. B., 169.
Proctitis. Two cases, Johnson, F. W., 295.
Profession. An over-crowded profession, 90.
Progress. Conservative progress, Didama H, D., 529.
Providence. Disposal of sewage at Providence, a sewage besieged city: 596.
Puerperal Convulsions. Some points regarding puerperal convulsions, Withington, C. F., 580.
Putnam, J. J. The medico-legal significance of typical so-called hysterical symptoms occurring in men after railway and other injuries, 8.
Putnam, J. J., and Canfield, R. M. A case of acute hemiplegic chorea, with autopsy and remarks, 220.
Pyosalpynx. A successful case of abdominal section for pyosalpynx treated by Volkmann's method, Martin, F. A., 132.

Quarantine. Efficacy of quarantine and the rights of states, Rauch, J. H., 395; the non-contagiousness of cholera and inadequacy of quarantine, Chancellor, 397; report of committee on practical work required for the prevention of cholera in this country, 397; the follies of quarantine, 403; quarantine as a sieve, 524; the quarantine conference in New York, 547.
Questions. The diagnostic use of questions, 233.
Quine, W. E. Significance of jaundice in diagnosis, 15.

Rabies in the human subject, Beurmann, M. de, 502.
Rachel. Dystocia from coiling of the cord about the neck of the fœtus, 381.
Ranch Life. The drawbacks of ranch life for the phthisical, Fisk, S. A., 46.
Ranney, A. L. The therapeutical effects of the internal administration of hot water in the treatment of nervous diseases, 399.
Rauch, J. H. Efficacy of quarantine and the rights of States, 395.
Recent Progress. Otology, Green, J. Orne, 34; obstetrics, Green, C. M., 58; laryngology and rhinology, Hooper, F. H., 78, 109; surgery, Cabot, A. T., 127; gynecology, Davenport, F. H., 156; medical chemistry, Hills, W. B., 178; thoracic diseases, Shattuck, F. C., 205; anatomy, Dwight, T., 227; nervous diseases, Webber, S. G., 271; dermatology, Tilden, G. H., 465; pathology and pathological anatomy, Whitney, W. F., 487, 511; report on diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., 534; therapeutics, Williams, F. H., 300, 324; orthopraxy, Bradford, E. H., and Burrell, H. L., 582; orthopedic surgery, Bradford, E. H., 604.
Rectum. Excision of the rectum, Andrews, E., 542.
Reeve, J. C. Moot points in regard to inversion of the uterus, 346.
Refrigerated Beef. Lassing, H., 435.
Respiratory System. Report on laryngology and rhinology, Hooper, F. H., 78, 109; rhinolithiasis, with a report of a case of about forty years' development, Bettman, J., 135; cold baths in the treatment of pneumonia, Kiseleff, M. K., 160; report on progress in thoracic diseases, Shattuck, F. C., 205; "rose cold," Mackenzie, M., 260; the mode of origin of general miliary tuberculosis, 260; chronic ileo-colitis and laryngismus stridulus, Bartholow, R., 286; report of a remarkable case of cough, MacCoy, 310; artificial production of lung disease by inhalation, Wargunin, 357; double pneumonia in a man, with slight aortic stenosis of long-standing and possible atheroma of the coronary arteries, Cutler, E. G., 469; pneumonia complicating chronic endocarditis and acute pericarditis, Cutler, E. G., 470; the pathology of broncho-pneumonia, Delafield, F., 484, 493; the aspirator in pleural effusion, Bowditch, H. I., 572; pneumo-thorax, Lyman, G. H., 585; is the operation of tracheotomy in diphtheritic croup dangerous? when should the operation be performed? Winters, J. F., 588.
Reynolds, J. P. Congenital arrest of development, 561.
Rheumatism. The use of manaca (Franciscea uniflora) in the treatment of acute rheumatism, Rogers, H. C., 532.
Rhinelander Case. One feature of the Rhinelander case, 450.
Rhinolithiasis, with a report of a case of about forty years' development, Bettman, J., 135.
Rhode Island Hospital. Amputations from 1868 to 1883, Caswell, E. T., 289.
Richardson, W. L. Cases of pregnancy complicated with fibroid tumor of the uterus, 39; placenta succenturiata, 394.
Rickets in Animals, 280.
Rickets. The surgical management of rachitic deformities of the lower extremities, Gibney, V. P., 540.
Ringer, S. The hypodermic injection of amyl and epileptiform convulsions, 238.
Roberts, J. B. The cure of crooked noses by a new method, 369.
Robinson, A. R. Miliaria and sudamina, 232.
Robison, J. A. Remarks on aneurisms, 276.
Rogers, H. C. The use of manaca (Franciscea uniflora) in the treatment of acute rheumatism, 532.
Rogers, O. F. Case of acute diabetes of unknown duration; death from coma seventy-two hours after coming under observation, 208.
Rollins, W. H. Restoration of gums about loose teeth, 22; causes of discoloration in gold fillings in teeth, 226; a gas furnace for firing dental enamels and porcelains; causes of "gasing" in firing teeth, 393.
"Rose Cold," Mackenzie, M., 260.
Rotch, T. M. Report on diseases of children, 534.

Sanitary Towel, Curtis, E., 182.
Sawyer (Chicago). The occipito-posterior position in vertex labors, 349.
Sawyer, E. W. Treatment of abortion, 591.
Scabies. Prevalence of scabies, Greenough, F. B., 514.
Scarlatina. The relations between scarlatina and diphtheria, 70.
Scarlet Fever in a canary, Ogston, F., 381.
Schools. Overpressure in schools, Browne, C., 358.
Schuster (Aix La Chapelle). The elimination of mercury during and after its cutaneous employment, 190.
Schweinitz, G. de. Sarcoma of testicle, 62; microscopic slides from a case of spindle-celled sarcoma of the breast, 137.
Sciatica. The diagnosis of sciatica, Beurmann, 46; traumatic sciatica and its relation to hip disease, Massey, G. B., 86.
Science in Trade, 213.
Scientific Association. The organization of an International Scientific Association, 117.
Sclerosis, Disseminated, Déjérine, 287.
Scudder, H. M. The treatment of Asiatic cholera in Southern India, 278.
Seaverns, J. Weight as an indication of the character of risks for life insurance, 385, 453.
Seguin, E. C. Locomotor ataxia and syphilis, 9.
Serous Membranes. Tuberculosis of the serous membranes, Pepper, W., 265.
Serpents. Dime museums and venomous serpents, 209.
Sewage. Epuration of sewage by irrigation and agriculture, Clarke, E. C. and others, 81; farming at Pullman, 526; disposal of sewage at Providence; a sewage besieged city, 596.
Sewer gas. Some diseases which may be merely symptoms of the effects of poisoning by sewer gas, Morrill, F. G., 531.
Shattuck, F. C. Report on progress in thoracic diseases, 205.
Shattuck, G. B. Ætiology and propagation of cholera, 457.
Sherwell, S. A suggestion concerning the treatment of acne and acne rosacea in the male subject, 230.
Sibbald, J. A case of extra-uterine pregnancy treated successfully by electricity, 511.
Sims, J. M. Special meeting of the Boston Medical Library Association for the presentation of a bust of the late Dr. J. Marion Sims, 539.

Smith (New York). Treatment of acute abscess, 45.
Smith, A. H. The present aspect of the puerperal diseases, 349.
Smith, J. L. The summer diarrhœa of children, 37.
Smith, R. M. The absorption of sugar and albuminoids by the stomach, 347.
Snake-Bite. Successful treatment of snake-bite by the explosive cautery, Wilcox, T. G., 309.
Societies. Boston Medical Library Association, 539, 563; Boston Society for Medical Improvement, 35, 469, 511, 584; Boston Society for Medical Observation, 158; Chicago Gynæcological Society, 591; Chicago Medical Society, 15, 132, 251, 276, 302, 351, 542; Dermatological Association, American, 230; Gynæcological Society, American, 346; Health Association, American Public, 418, 610; Health, National Conference of State Boards of, 394, 526, 607; International Scientific Association, 117; Maine Medical Association, 13; Massachusetts Medical Society, 9, 73, 332, 350; Medico-Psychological Society, Boston, 131, 561; Neurological Association, American, 6; New York Academy of Medicine, 371, 399, 490, 540, 588, 615; New York, Medical Association of the County of, 37; New York County Medical Association, 420; New York Post-Graduate Medical School and Hospital Clinical Society, 613; New York State Med. [illegible] Association, 519, 537; Obstetrical Society of Boston, 39, 130, 182, 250, 274, 393, 516; Philadelphia Clinical Society, 86, 423, 518; Philadelphia County Medical Society, 444, 612; Pathological Society of Philadelphia, 62, 137, 493, 610; Rhode Island Medical Society, 393; Suffolk District Medical Society, 60, 81, 111, 160, 371, 419, 560.
Sore Throat. A remarkable epidemic of sore throat originating in a milk supply, 118.
Sphex. The instinct of the sphex, Romanes, J. G., 622.
Spina Bifida, Gannett, W. W., 584.
Squibb, E. R. Erythroxylon coca, 283.
Stedman, G. Notes of a case of drowning, 177.
Steinbach, L. W. Double inguinal hernia in a male infant, thirty-eight days old; strangulation on the left side; herniotomy, 559.
Steinmann, F. Late marriages, 166.
Stelwagon, H. W. A case of late cutaneous syphilis (acne-form syphiloderm of the nose) illustrating the occasional necessity of large doses of potassium iodide, 232; a case of vitiligo involving the whole surface, 232.
Stomach. Atonic dilatation of the stomach, 473.
Strictures, 454.
Subcutaneous Injections in intestinal pain; their safety as compared with opiates by the mouth, Buckingham, E. M., 415; the injection of a solution of salt in acute anæmia, Thon, 430.
Suicide by Hanging, Nobiling, 379.
Sunstroke, Wood, H. C., 505.
Surgery. Recent progress in surgery, Cabot, A. T., 127; surgical triumphs and operative audacities, Jackson, A., 166; recent progress in orthopedic surgery, Bradford, E. H., 604.
Syphilis. Locomotor ataxia and syphilis, Seguin, E. C., 9.

Tait, L. Address on abdominal surgery, 328; letter from Mr. Lawson Tait, 500.
Taylor, R. W. On a peculiar ringed affection of the glans and prepuce, 292.
Temperature. Local temperature in biliary colic, Cyr, J., 454.
Testicle. Sarcoma of testicle, Schweinitz, R. de, 62.
Teuffel R. Hydramnion in extra uterine pregnancy, 287.
Theobald. An oyster mistaken for a malignant growth, 358.
Thomas. Extra-uterine pregnancy, 347.
Thon. The injection of a solution of salt in acute anæmia, 430.
Tichborne Case, 402.
Tilden, G. H. Progress in dermatology, 465.
Tizzoni. The supra-renal capsules, 262.
Tonsils. The three tonsils, suggestions in regard to their structure, functions and diseases, Bosworth, J. H., 371.
Toulon. Cholera and sanitary neglect at Toulon, 70.
Toxicology in Literature, Blyth, A. W., 190.
Tracheotomy. Is the operation of tracheotomy in diphtheritic croup dangerous? when should the operation be performed? Winters, J. F., 588.
Travelers' Pocket Pharmacy, 43.
"Tricks and Manners," 547.
Truman and Crooks, Doctors, 355.
Tumors. Exceptional fatty tumors, Hodges, R. M., 361; tumors of the male bladder, with report of a case, Watson, F. S., 409, 419; pregnancy and ovarian cyst; ovarian tumor in a woman of ninety years, Giddings, W. P., 417; cystic-papillary adenoma of the neck, Barton, J. M., 493; fibroid and ovarian tumors removed by abdominal section, Homans, J., 588.
Tupper, A. M. Anthropophagy, 236.
Typhoid Fever. A typhoid epidemic at the "North End" (Boston), Bullard, W. N., 55, 60; the typhoid of new-comers, Hall, J. D., 602.
Tyson, J. Acute parenchymatous nephritis, 193.

Urinary System. Median lithotomy for cystitis and hyperæsthetic urethra, Axford, W. L., 18; primary cancer of bladder, Whitney, W. F., 160; acute parenchymatous nephritis, Tyson, J., 193; a case of multiple calculi in the bladder, Cabot, A. T., 195; the pathogenic microbes of gonorrhœa, Welander, E., 214; gastro-nephric fistula, Chadwick, J. R., 274; cystin in urine, Fifield, W. C. B., 468; tumors of the bladder, Cabot, A. T., 477; rubber catheter broken off in the urethra, Myers, S. O., 303; extirpation of a retro renal sarcoma by abdominal section, Chadwick, J. R., 388; tumors of the male bladder, with report of a case, Watson, F. S., 409, 419; a case of calculus in the female bladder; removal by Bigelow's operation, Pinkham, J. G., 416; encephaloid kidney, Weeks, A. P., 561.

Vaccination and syphilitic infection, 188.
Vanderbilt's gift to the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York, 425.
Van Duyn, J. A case of acute poliomyelitis in the adult, 285.
Varicocele. A new instrument for operating on varicocele, Andrews E., 543.
Via ad Astra, The modern, 259.
Virchow. A busy life, 284.

Wales, N. "Militia ambulance bearer companies," 355.
Walsham. The treatment of epileptiform neuralgia by nerve-stretching, 189.
Walton, G. L. A contribution to the study of hysteria bearing on the question of oöphorectomy, 8; case of hysterical hemianæsthesia, convulsions, and motor paralysis brought on by a fall, 558, 561.
Wargunin. Artificial production of lung disease by inhalation, 357.
Warner, E. Chloral hydrate as an antiseptic, 177; a case of Dupuytren's contraction, 345.
Warren, J. C. Dr. J. Collins Warren's new operation for rupture of the perinæum through the sphincter, Paddock, F. K., 80.
Water. A commission to consider the relief of river basins and protection of water supplies, 19; the therapeutical effects of the internal administration of hot water in the treatment of nervous diseases, Ranney, A. L., 399.
Watson, F. S. Tumors of the male bladder, with report of a case, 409, 419.
Webber, S. G. Multiple neuritis, 6; report on nervous diseases, 271.
Webster, J. O. "Weight as an indication of the character of risks for life insurance," 453.
Weeks, A. P. Encephaloid kidney, 561.
Welander, E. The pathogenic microbes of gonorrhœa, 214.
Wellington, W. W. Summary of six hundred consecutive cases of midwifery, 509, 516.
West, E. G. A case of myxœdema, with autopsy, 50, 60.
Wetmore, S. W. Fracture of the clavicle and its rational treatment, 133.
White, J. C. A case of unilateral chromidrosis (?), 231; cases of arsenical dermatitis, 231, 433.
Whitney, W. F. Primary cancer of bladder, 160; recent progress in pathology and pathological anatomy, 487, 511.
Wiggin, O. C. Address before Rhode Island Medical Society, 393.
Wilcox, T. G. Successful treatment of snake-bite by the explosive cautery, 309.
Wilder, B. G. Encephalic nomenclature, 67.
Williams, C. H. An alloplastic operation, 159; ocular anæsthesia produced by cocaine, 440; hydrochlorate of cocaine, 585.
Williams, E. T. The preparation of Liebig's food, 460.
Williams, F. H. Report on progress in therapeutics, 300, 324.
Williams, H. W. Apparent and real amaurosis, 577, 587.
Wilson, C. M. How to prepare antiseptic dressings of mercuric bichloride, 333.
Wilson, H. P. C. Foreign bodies in the abdomen after laparotomy, 347.
Winters, J. F. Is the operation of tracheotomy in diphtheritic croup dangerous? when should the operation be performed? 588.
Wins. An unusually protracted case of diphtheria, 454.
Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Notes of a case of poisoning from Mrs. Winslow's soothing syrup, Hirsh, A. B., 370.
Withington, C. F. Some points regarding puerperal convulsions, illustrated by two cases, 580.
Women. Female pharmacists, 115.
Wood, H. C. Sunstroke, chronic meningitis, 505.